

BACK IN TIME

By: Whytney Caton

I would go back to the good 'ole days,
That's where my dad stays.
Those were the days I had a dad,
Those are the days I no longer had.

As days go by,
I would ask him questions like who, what, when, where, and even why.

Why did you leave me? Did you want to stay?
That guy that killed you, he will pay.

I want to see if we are alike,
I want to talk with him and tell him about that boy I like.
I want to learn from his side of the tree,
And after that I would set him free.

It's Time To Say

Goodbye

I cannot change that he had to die,
All I can do now is say good-bye.

Now I will return, but it's not that bad,

Cause now I can tell my little sister all about the guy we call our dad.
