I tricked him

I tricked him into thinking he loved me.

No man would have been able to fall in love with me on his own accord.

I tricked him.

I manipulated his mind with the seductive movements of my body and the words that I said

all things I learned from the girls that surrounded me and the girls I saw on T.V.

I succeeded

I tricked him

I manipulated his mind with the seductive movements of my...

I could see it in his eyes. He thought he loved me.

I got what I wanted:

his attention and affections.

I tricked him

But now I know that that was not what I wanted at all

What I truly craved was a love so deep, both the oceans and the sky would be jealous.

but I tricked him.
